

STOLEN CAR TAKEN BACK TO CINCINNATI

Federal Officers Investigating Its Theft—No Reward Paid For Its Recovery

John A. Dittmars, representing the insurance company with which Robert Ficks, of Cincinnati, had insured his big Chandler touring car for $2,000 against theft, came here from Cincinnati Wednesday afternoon and took the car back with him. He was accompanied by James Hatfield, representing Mr. Ficks, who is a large manufacturer of the Queen City, being head of the Ficks Reed Company. The car, as was told a day or so ago in these columns, was found by Deputy Sheriff Sant Bush in a barn at the home of Mrs. Willoughby on the Irvine pike, where it had been placed for storage by the Baker boys. Since its discovery it had been stored at the Luxon Garage in this city.

The car was stolen from Ficks on March 7th, just a few days after he had bought it brand new. He had parked it in front of the Sinton Hotel in Cincinnati and when he went after it, it was gone. He immediately turned the case over to the insurance company, which had issued a policy against its loss by theft. There was no reward or any sort offered for its recovery, and but for the vigilance of Deputy Sheriff Sant Bush and others here, would probably never have been found, for it had been changed in color from a baby blue to a black. The coating of black paint that it had been subjected to was so crudely done, that the suspicions of most anyone would have been aroused by an inspection of the machine. Outside of paying the actual costs that the local officers went to in the matter, the representative of the company didn't say "Turkey" to the man who had saved it $2,000 in cold hard cash.

Though the car has been recovered, the case is probably not yet ended, for a federal officer was here early in the week inquiring into the case. It is a federal offense to transport a stolen car from one state to another. With Uncle Sam handling the prosecution of those who stole the car, it is probable that no state or local action can be taken. The Cincinnati men who were here said that Mr. Ficks, for the Cincinnati officers had no idea of who took it. It is understood Tom and Floyd Baker, who brought the car to Mrs. Willoughby's and asked permission to store it in her empty barn till June, said that they bought it. They went to Clay county, immediately after storing the car, and it is understood have not returned yet. It is said to be probable that they will be summoned by federal marshals to tell all they know about the car.

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, April 8.—The strike of "insurgent" members of the Railroad Brotherhoods which began a week ago here, today had spread to other parts of the United States and there are indications that the series of rebellions against the parent organization have not reached the crest on heels of strikes in such strategic centers as Buffalo and Kansas City today came another from California. THOMASON MURDER CASE STARTS TRIAL

Much interest is being manifested here in the trial at Lexington of James Welch for the murder of J. S. Thomason, the drummer for a Winchester firm, who was so nearly fatally poisoned by a drink of whisky that a stranger gave him on the Red House pike and from the effects of which he recovered in a Richmond hospital after several weeks careful nursing. Both the prosecution and defense have been over here looking up witnesses in the case, the trial of which begun at Lexington Wednesday. A dispatch from Lexington had the following about the opening of the trial:

Mrs. Susan B. Thomason, widow of J. S. Thomason, and Jas. Welch, a farmer, of Donerail, had attempted to poison Thomason, and the slaying of Thomason was the result of a conspiracy. John R. Allen, Commonwealth's Attorney, alleged in outlining the case for the prosecution at the beginning of Welch's trial.

Col. Allen said the commonwealth would prove that Mrs. Thomason and Welch believed Thomason to be a barrier to an illicit love affair and conspired to kill him.

During the process of the trial, Clarence William Welch, the accused man's four-year-old son, sat on his lap and Welch smiled when talking to the lad.

After selection of the jury, five witnesses for the prosecution were heard. The witnesses testified mainly concerning the actual shooting, which took place in the presence of more than a thousand persons on a crowded street at four o'clock on Christmas Eve.

Coroner John Anglin testified that he examined the body forty-five minutes after the shooting and found that Thomason had been shot twice in the arm, three times in the breast and once in the side.

J. D. Noel, a tobacco man, said he was on Main street, near the automobile which Thomason and his wife were occupying, when the shooting took place.

He said he saw Welch raise his pistol and fire a number of times.

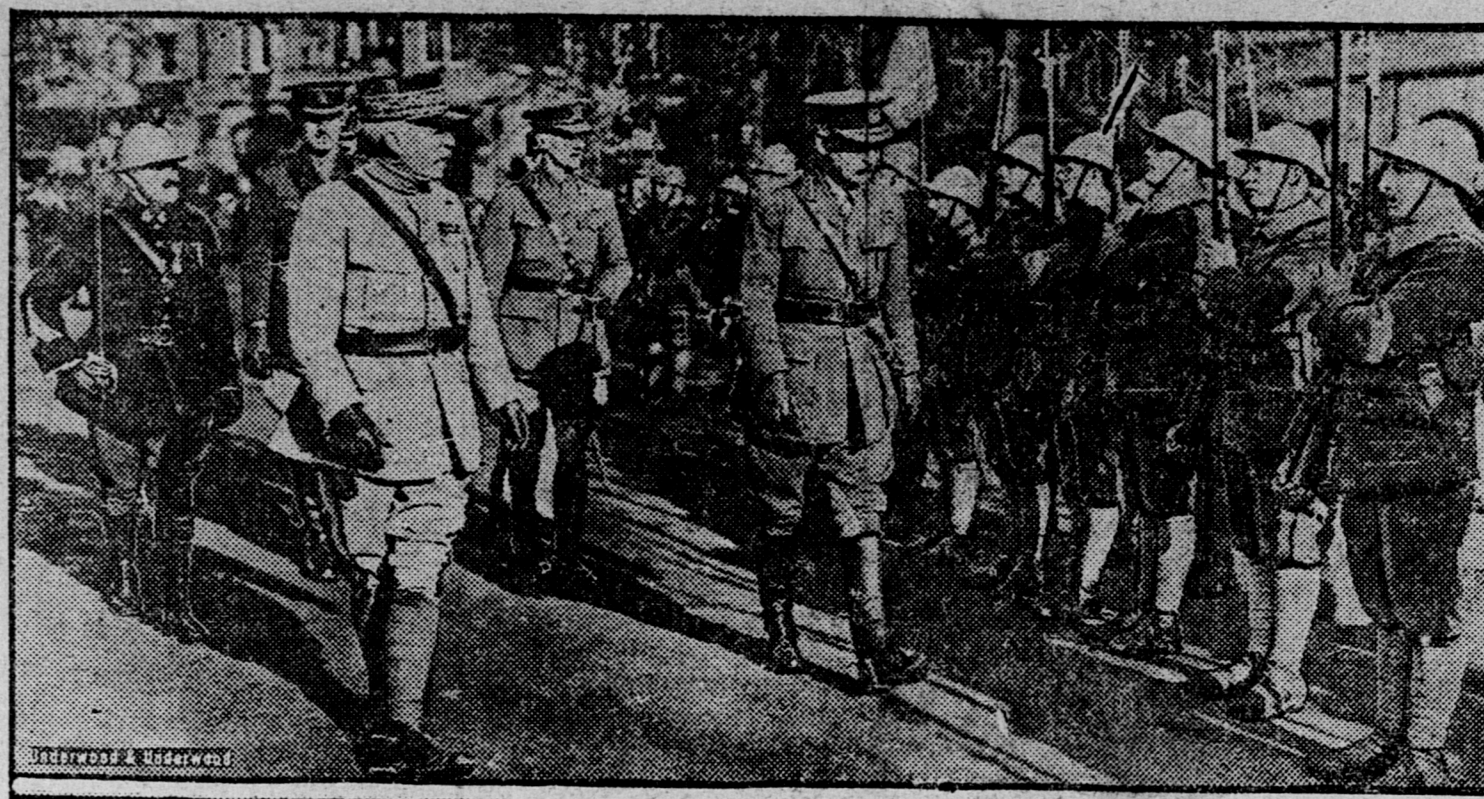

Mrs. Thomason, according to Noel, then left the machine, stepping over the body but did not touch it. Noel denied that Thomason was armed with a knife or any other weapon.

Patrolman Nathan Jackson testified after the arrest a woman ran from an automobile and threw her arms around his neck, and cried, "what shall I do." The patrolman said he was not confused at the time and was not able to say whether or not the woman was Mrs. Thomason.

Two suit cases were washed down by the high waters, but one, the gentleman's was recovered. The lady is said to have lost hers containing much valuable clothing.

Jackson have been appointed to represent the Madison Fiscal Court, and it is probable that Messrs. M. C. Covington, W. O. Burke, Speed Taylor and others will go over to represent the Lancaster pike farmers at the meeting. The Danville Messenger says of the plans there for the road meeting:

County Judge Stapp, of Garrard county, has called a mass meeting of all persons interested in the national highway that will be built through this section for next Friday morning, April 9, at 11 o'clock, at the courthouse in Danville. Delegates from the various counties through which the road will run will be here and make plans for building the highway and it is hoped that a large crowd will be present. Speakers for the occasion have not been announced, but it is expected that representatives of the State Road Department and members of the Fiscal Court of the counties interested will be here.

The road will start at Haryville in Hart county and run through Green, Taylor, Marion, Boyle and Garrard to Richmond in Madison, and since all of these funds with which to build the road, it will be necessary to adopt a type of road to be built, make plans, etc., which will be discussed at the meeting in Danville next Friday.

M'COMBS SELLS ITS KENTUCKY HOLDINGS

Local stockholders are interested in the announcement made from Louisville that the McCombs Producing and Refining Company and formerly one of the largest and most prosperous oil companies in Kentucky, has sold all of its remaining properties in Kentucky for $360,000. Reports state that the properties had been bought by the Superior Oil Corporation.

Some time ago the company sold to the Superior Oil Corporation what is known as the Adams lease for $238,000. It is proposed by the McCombs company, it is said, to sell the company's refinery in East St. Louis, thereby converting all its property into liquid assets after which the management will seek to re-establish the company in some other territory.

The affairs of the McCombs Company have been in court for some time. An action is now pending in the Jefferson county courts against former officials and directors, seeking the cancellation of about $500,000 of stock alleged to have been issued without consideration to those officials and directors, and therefore void.

Much interest has been manifested in the organization of the literary societies for this term. The contests last term served to increase the interest of students in forensic work and the interest carried into class room.

DISTINGUISHED OLD MAN PASSES AWAY

George M. Adams, aged 83 years, formerly a noted figure in Kentucky politics, died at Winchester Tuesday night. He will be buried in Lexington.

Mr. Adams was born in Barboursville Dec. 20, 1837, and was educated in the schools there and at Centre College, which he attended in 1854 and 1855. In 1858 he was elected circuit clerk of Knox county, and served in that capacity until 1861, when he resigned to enter the Union Army, first as a private in Company H, Seventh Regiment, Kentucky Infantry. He was promoted to captain, and served as such for about eighteen months. President Lincoln then appointed him paymaster with the rank of major, the rank he held the close of the war.

In 1867 Mr. Adams was elected representative from the 8th district but what is now the Eleventh Kentucky district in the Fortieth Congress and was reelected to the Forty-first, Forty-second and Forty-third, Congresses. He was clerk of the House of Representatives in the Forty-fourth, Forty-fifth and Forty-sixth Congresses. In 1884 he was appointed by Governor Knott register of the land office in Kentucky and filled the unexpired term of the former incumbent who had died after serving only one year.

Governor Simon Bolivar Buckner made Mr. Adams his Secretary of State and as such he served for the full term of four years from 1887 to 1891.

President Cleveland appointed him pension agent for Kentucky in 1894, and he discharged the duties of this office with great accuracy and fidelity. His last public service was in stumping the State for John Young Brown against William Goebel in 1899.

Mr. Adams was married to Miss Sara L. Gordon, of Winchester, in 1855. She died several years ago. He had been living quietly in Winchester since his retirement from public life nearly twenty years ago.

"FRISKED" MADISON MAN ON TRAIN

B. D. Dykes Tells How Pick-pocket Worked On Him While Returning From South

A pickpocket "frisked" B. D. Dykes, of Red House, on a train at Atlanta, as that popular and well known citizen of the county, was returning from Tampa, Fla., the other day. Luckily the thief failed to get Mr. Dykes' pocket-book, containing $25, but the nimble-fingered gentleman did get his bankbook, the check for his baggage, his razor and a check drawn in Mr. Dykes' favor for $64, which he had taken along with him to have in the event that he needed any extra money. Mr. Dykes says that he boarded a train, in a jam of people, and started through one car, when a man who was pushing him caught him by the coat and told him that he should go the other way. As he whirled Mr. Dykes about the latter felt the man insert his hand in his inside coat pocket and saw him come out with his papers, etc. The thief gave Mr. Dykes a push, however, and he halfway fell over a pile of luggage, and while, he was getting himself together again, the pickpocket disappeared in the crowd.

Cox For President

If the country newspapers are a safe criterion, Gov. Jimmy Cox, of Ohio, is the overwhelming choice of Kentuckians for the democratic presidential nomination at San Francisco. Only one or two are raising a dissenting voice and they are for an untried delegation from the state. The Stanford Interior Journal gives some mighty strong reasons why it seems best for the Democracy of the nation to select Ohio's favorite son for its standard bearer at this time. The Interior Journal says:

A movement, which seems to have the backing of many men of influence in the central states, has been started to nominate Governor James M. Cox, of Ohio, for President on the Democratic ticket.

It would not like to see Cox nominated have been attempting to connect him with Eli Brown, Judge John Lansing and other Democratic ex-leaders now prominent officers and members of the Down and Out Club in Kentucky. This attempt should fool nobody. Governor Cox as a vote-getter has no peer in his party North of Mason and Dixon's line. He is the only Democrat in his state to be elected Governor of that state three times and the only Democrat to receive four consecutive nominations of his party for that office. He has made the reliably Republican State of Ohio an extremely doubtful one if not dependably Democratic.

He has youth and vigor, as can be testified to by those who had the good fortune to hear his speeches in Kentucky last fall for the Democratic ticket. He has been a great war governor, has been close to President Wilson and his warm supporter. He has the confidence of capital and labor in his own state and of the farmers and small home owners whose interests he has protected zealously as Governor, along with every other proper interest. Hailed as a liberal by those who would turn the dry vote against him, it must be remembered that it was he who gave Cincinnati to understand that the Sunday closing law applied to that city as well as every other in Ohio and it was because of his making that fact known to the mayor of Cincinnati that that city, for the first time in a century, finally closed her saloons on Sunday.

Governor Cox is going to prove a formidable candidate for the nomination, in the opinion of the Interior Journal, and if he is nominated will make a lively race with whom ever the Republicans put up. He is the ideal candidate to meet the enemies of the treaty and the League of Nations. His own record of loyalty to the administration and the splendid record of Ohio, in the war undoubtedly will become factors in the fight if he should be the nominee. Ever since his entry into state politics he has had the warm support of the Ohio State Journal, the leading Republican newspaper of that state, which has consistently held the interests of the state in the matter of good government higher than that of party fealty, when the party nominated men of mediocre ability for office. If nominated by the Democrats there is no doubt of the result in Ohio, to start with, and in our opinion, none in the nation.

ANTI-SUICIDE CLUB FOR DOWN AND OUTERS

Helping Hands Stretched Out By Salvation Army Workers to the Despairing.

Many anti-suicide clubs in the state of Kentucky are quietly carrying on the work of inducing people not to take their own lives.

These clubs are among the Salvation Army's many agencies for grappling with moral and social problems. Practically every active Salvation Army corps in the state has one of these clubs—whether the agency bears the name of "Anti-Suicide Club" or not.

State Army officials report that local Salvation Army officers frequently are notified of cases of attempted suicide, or of those suffering from morbid impulses. Particulars in these cases come from police, relatives of the distressed persons, or through other agencies.

Salvation Army officers, when they hear of a case of a person being on the verge of taking his own life, immediately call on the person and give what advice or relief is necessary. By talking things over with the Salvation Army officer, the person gets a different view of things and often concludes that life is worth while.

This is one of the many agencies for good in the work of the Salvation Army, whose Home Service Campaign is on in Kentucky, May 10-20.

F. K. LANE HEADS NATION-WIDE DRIVE

Former Secretary of the Interior to Conduct Salvation Army Home Service Campaign.

One of the best-known men in the country, Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the Interior in President Wilson's cabinet, is to be the national chairman of the great Salvation Army Home Service drive, May 10-20.

Although under contract to assume charge of some great oil well properties for rich westerners April 1, ex-Secretary Lane declared that this work could wait until he had discharged his duties as head of a great campaign to raise money to help the poor and the unfortunate.

A "shirt sleeve" man himself, Secretary Lane knows what the pinch of poverty is. Born and reared a poor boy, he had many a hard knock before winning success.

In assuming charge of the campaign Secretary Lane said: "I know of no greater bulwark that could be raised against the rising tide of human unrest than to strengthen the hands of this band of self-sacrificing Christian toilers who have the confidence of all men regardless of race, creed, color or position in life."

SPRING STYLES IN JEWELRY

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, April 8—Spring styles in jewelry on display in the show rooms are different from those of last year. Green as represented in jade is the leading color. Last year red was the predominating note.

Bead necklaces have a touch of the Oriental in them. Round beads and odd shapes are being shown. Some of the necklaces are all beads and some of the beads and links. The beads are larger than formerly and sometimes are set with tiny stones such as pearls, emeralds, garnets and sapphires.

Earrings that are being shown are mostly of long Egyptian type, some of which seem like weights because a large artificial pearl or fancy jade ball hangs from a sterling chain.

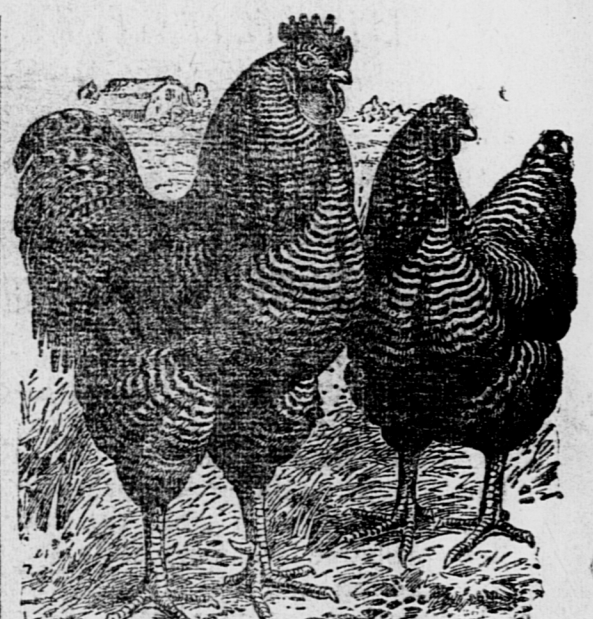

Flexible bracelets, the crystals are combined with other stones, such as onyx, emeralds and sapphires.

Large onyx centers with surrounding clusters of crystals are among the novelties.

climax that contains a surprise. Miss Talmadge has the best opportunity of her career for comedy work, and shows that she is talented in this line as well as emotional roles.

Conway Tearle, her handsome leading man, also has a role well suited to his talents and is an admirable foil to the fun of the star, and the rest of the cast is excellent. Altogether "She Loves and Lies" is a delightful comedy with an unusually good plot, a vehicle that adds much to the reputation of its star.

Would You Lose If Your Property Burned Today?

The destruction of that $5,000 home you built a few years ago would lose to you the original cost, plus another $5,000. For it costs $10,000 now to build the $5,000 home of 1914.

Likewise the loss of today of the business property that cost $50,000 before Germany went mad, would be $100,000—probably $100,000 would not replace it.

Quick Action Corn Cure

"Gets-It" Stops Pain Instantly and Corn Soon Lifts Right Off.

A few drops of "Gets-It" quenches corn pains like water quenches fire. Gives you immediate relief.

The corn begins to lose its grip at once. In a day or two it is so loose that you can lift it off, roots and all, 'twixt thumb and finger. That's the last of it. As millions have found out, it is the simple, effective and common-sense way to be rid of corns.

"Gets-It," the never-failing, guaranteed, money-back corn remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

FIGHT IN TRAIN CAUSES

PANIC AMONG PASSENGERS
Owensboro, Ky., April 6.—A panic took place in the smoking compartment of the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis passenger train, between Irvington and Webster, last night, when Ernest Lue and Walker Logsdon engaged in a fight, Lue being held between two seats by Logsdon who, it is alleged, was stabbing him with a knife.

Lue, police say, drew his revolver and began to fire. The shots went wild, but there was a stampede of the passengers to escape from the car. C. T. Nichols, railroad detective, who was entering the car, separated the fighters. Lue was cut seriously in the side. Both men were arrested. Lue was allowed to leave the train at Webster, his home, and Walker at Lodi.

The men are cousins, and are said to have had trouble at Irvington before boarding the train. The train was delayed an hour and a half.

MANY KINDS SHIMMY AT SPARKS CIRCUS

And now the tango and very popular shimmy have even invaded the realm of the circus.

It's the truth. The whole truth and nothing but the truth. For when Sparks' World Famous Shows come to Richmond Monday, April 19th there will be exhibitions of every sort of tango that exists. There will even be exhibitions of every sort of tango in the world, originated about the time—as far as history can be made accurate—that Adam and Eve had trouble over their rent in the restricted Eden district and were forced to move without waiting for the first of May. The dancers?

Permit us to introduce, ladies and gentlemen, with your kindest attention, Vera Barren and Baron De Bell, true exponents of the tango, as well as the more modern shimmy. Vera and the Baron, let it be known, are the leading members of the Sparks' Stable of Dancing horses, and when they start dancing there is nothing in the code of the convention of the Dancing Teachers of America that can even approach them.

But Vera and the Baron are not the only dancers with the circus. There are tango dancing elephants, shimmy dancing monkeys and even the bears have been taught to do intricate steps. Of course they all form a part of the circus performance. Then too, there are the forty clowns and all the other circus features which go to make up a program of rare excellence.

No. 2

The State Bank & Trust Co.

Ever mindful of the interests of its clients, wants to devote this space to a little heart-to-heart talk with any of our customers who are holders of Liberty Bonds and are contemplating disposing of them. Let us begin by advising you.

DON'T DO IT

Here's one reason. Your bond, on which the interest is as certain as death or taxes, will come to you every six months during the life of the bond, and when it matures it will be redeemed at 100 cents on the dollar in Gold.

IF YOU SHOULD SELL you will have to accept the prevailing market price—around 90. This apparent depreciation is not due to any failure on the part of the Government. Rather it is due to the holders themselves. Many, fired with patriotism during the war, bought more bonds than they could afford to carry. Others bought bonds and because they wanted ready money for luxuries threw them on the market. The vast volume of these bonds outstanding was so great that they could not be readily absorbed. The savings of the people would not permit it. Naturally the price went down. But the price will go up as sure as the sun shines, and in the end every Liberty Bond will be redeemed at par, and every cent of interest will be paid.

HOLD ON TO YOURS

The last coupon on your THIRD LIBERTY LOAN BOND was due March 15th last and you can not collect any more interest till you exchange your temporary bond for a permanent bond. We are acting as the agent for the Government and have the permanent bonds to exchange for your temporary bonds. Bring them to us NOW for exchange
